

Or Ami “Light of My People” Award for Special Achievement

Women of Reform Judaism established the Or Ami “Light of My People” Award in 1973 to recognize and honor those WRJ affiliated women’s groups and WRJ Districts undertaking replicable programs or projects of distinctive character and significance. Those whose programs and projects are selected as recipients will be recognized at WRJ’s Fried Leadership Conference 2018, which will be held from March 1-4, 2018. All programs and projects will be available on the Women of Reform Judaism website and in other resources, including at the Fried Leadership Conference.

Guidelines for Submission

1. The program/project should have occurred between April 2015 and June 30, 2017 and cannot have previously submitted for an Or Ami award or a WRJ Incubator Grant. The program/project should have significant impact for its target audience.
 - a. A program/project that was sponsored by multiple WRJ affiliates can be submitted by a women’s group OR a collection of women’s groups OR a WRJ District. The program/project cannot be submitted more than once.
2. Applications are due by July 10, 2017.
3. Applications should include program/project flyer(s) and other relevant marketing materials as well as up to five (5) photos that represent any phase of the program/project.

The following criteria will be used in considering each submission for an Or Ami Award:

1. Program/Project Focus - At least one of the following was a primary focus:
 - a. Tikkun Olam – Social Action
 - i. Based on recent WRJ resolutions, initiatives or action alerts
 - ii. Based on longstanding WRJ interest or program – including previous WRJ resolutions that are currently relevant.
 - iii. Based on interest or current need relevant to the mission of WRJ or the women’s group
 - b. Education
 - c. Leadership development
 - d. Spirituality
 - e. Interfaith and/or interreligious
 - f. Outreach to other groups
 - g. Multi-generational programs
 - h. Youth
 - i. Local congregation or community
 - j. Existing WRJ/URJ initiatives
 - k. Other
2. Content
 - a. Creativity
 - b. Innovation
 - c. Overall Quality
3. Audience
 - a. Target audience was identified as part of the planning process (e.g. women only, new members, children, the broader community)
 - b. Target audience(s) attended or benefited from the project/program

- c. Program is accessible for the intended audience (e.g., accessible for people with disabilities, affordable, transportation available if relevant, etc.)

4. Impact

- a. Number of WRJ women's group (or WRJ District) members involved as organizers or participants
- b. Number of people benefiting from or participating in program
- c. Reached out beyond the local women's group to include partnering/building bridges with groups both inside and outside the women's group submitting the application. Examples include - other faith based women's group; local, regional, national or international organizations and, for WRJ affiliated women's groups, other areas of the congregation (Early Childhood Education/Preschool, Religious School, Brotherhood/Men's Club, Adult Education, Ritual, etc.)
- d. Increases membership and/or engagement of current members.

5. Goals

- a. Goals were clearly stated – including target audience, expected impact and budget.
- b. Goals were met or exceeded.

6. *Replication Potential

- a. Ease of replication by other WRJ affiliated women's groups, WRJ Districts, or others.
- b. Submission includes sufficient information for replication

Please include the following in your application if relevant:

1. Post-Program/Project Evaluation

- b. A post program/project evaluation was completed by those who attended.
- c. A post program/project evaluation was completed by those who planned/executed the program.
- d. Evaluation methods used were objective, including both quantitative and qualitative as applicable

2. Connection to WRJ

- c. WRJ was promoted through the program/project
- d. WRJ branding was included in this program/project

Who May Apply

1. Any WRJ affiliated women's group.
2. A collection of women's groups, if the program/project was initiated or executed by at least one WRJ-affiliated women's group. The application will be submitted on behalf of the collective.
3. A WRJ District, provided that the program/project was implemented under its auspices.

How to Apply

1. Carefully read the guidelines and the application before beginning.
2. Applications should be submitted online at www.wrj.org/or-ami/apply.
3. A group may submit multiple programs/projects for consideration, but each program/project must be submitted separately.
4. Completed applications and all supporting materials must be submitted by July 10, 2017
*Note: Winners will be announced in October 2017.
5. We recommend including all marketing and program materials, and up to five photos. A short video will also be accepted. Please email mrussell@wrj.org with extra relevant materials, and be sure to include OR AMI 2018 and the name of the program/project and the women's group/WRJ District in the subject line.
* Please do not submit supplemental materials for multiple submissions in one email.
6. By submitting your application, photos, and other documents, you authorize WRJ to use this content in our videos, website, and other publications. Only high-resolution (JPGs, 5 megapixels or higher) photos or videos can be used for video and publication.

For more information, please contact WRJ Communications & Program Associate Micaela Russell at mrussell@wrj.org or 212-650-4060.