Praise for Bipartisan Commitment to Israel

Rabbi Saperstein commented on the bipartisan support for Israel’s security, exhibited first in President Obama’s signing of the U.S.-Israel Enhanced Cooperation Act, and then in Governor Romney’s speech on Sunday in Jerusalem. He urged Congress to adopt this rare, bipartisan model in seeking solutions for our nation’s greatest challenges.

The Health Insurance Marketplace

With over nine hundred pages outlining hundreds of provisions, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) allows for the creation of the Health Insurance Marketplace (Exchange) program, which facilitates individuals and small businesses as they select appropriate health insurance plans.

Women of Reform Judaism has long advocated for health care reform. In 1991 WRJ passed two relevant resolutions: “Universal Access to Health Care” and “Women’s Health Care,” which both called for improvements to the systemic problems causing significant segments of our nation’s population to receive inadequate or no health care.
