

ELIMINATE COMPULSORY MILITARY TRAINING - 1927

Whereas, compulsory military training in schools and colleges of the United States has greatly increased since the World War, and

Whereas, such training stresses war psychology in the minds of our youth, and

Whereas, the War Department is thus given unprecedented influence in our civil educational institutions, and

Whereas, such training runs counter to the movement to substitute law for war,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we, the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, in Biennial Convention assembled, do earnestly urge that the compulsory feature of such training be eliminated in land-grant colleges.
